The decorations are the prettiest ever seen in the city, and have been greatly complemented by the visitors. The people torve had some intle atffieldly in fielding places to sleep, but calling accommodations are good, although there is somewhat of a runt about meal time. Last night all the horels and boarding houses were crowed to overflowing, and many of he records Were occupied by from three to eight people, sleeping on the floor some in the tallways and others in hens. The marjority of the visitors, however, are guests of friends.

ARRIVAL OF KING. Yesterday afternoon the most im pressive event of the day took place. This was the arrival at the wharf of the king. The levee contained thousands of people, and a fleet of atcamers met his majesty at the incline. When the city was reached, his disembarka ttop was greeted toy scores of whistles. ells and cheers. He was presented with the key to the city by Mayor Lang, and the procession formed with the king, Mayor Lang, with a page earrying the key, the retinae, bands, connell, company K and others. THE ELKS PARADE.

It was lecidedly the most novel procession that ever passed through Paducah, and emstdecting the length of time to wach it was arranged and executed, it was a e-edit to the town as well as the liks. They received the greatest p alse from everybody, and have reason to be proud of it.

THE PARADE. The merchants' parade lists morn ng was the most clahorate and magntfleent thing in its way ever es sayed in Poincah. People were manimous in pronouncing it truly impossible, as a great iteal of space could be devoted to each float and every special feature of the parade. Nearly every mercantile and manufacturing establishment in the city cas represented.

The parade tegan with mounted nolice, officers Ami grand marshals. Following this came the Murnhrys boro band, and company K, Third Kentucky regiment. The soldlers were cheered all along the line of Judges from out of the city decided all the contests.

CAIRO OFFICERS HONORED. Pronument in the procession were the Cairo officials who are here the guests of the Paducah councilnien. They were all in carriages, and were complimented on all sides for their distinguished appearance.

TONIGHT'S FESTIVITIES. The grand allegorical procession takes place tonight, and will form at 7 o'clock p. m. and start at 7:30 sharp, and will be the trlunqual progress of his thrice-glorions Majesty, King Esakernp 1, and the Queen of the carnival through the streets of the city. The parade will form at the foot of Jefferson street and proceed out Jefforson to Fifth. thence to Monroe, over Monroe to Seventh, up Seventh to Jefferson, up Jefferson to Ninth, up Ninth to Broadway, down Broadway to First, up First to Court, out Court to Fourtu, up Fourth to Adams, out Adams to Seventh, down Seventh to Washingtor, down Washington to Fifth and down Fifth to the l'ainier House. where the coronation of the Queen of the Carnival will take place and the parade will disband. The coronation of the Queen takes place thirty minutes after becarrival at the hotel. Workmen this morning put an electrical flash light in the cupolo of the government building in order to throw the tableau of the coronation into greater distinctness.

THE MYSTIC BALL.

The Mystic ball tonight at the Palmer House promises to be the greatest function within the history of the city. There will be beautiful women and gallant men in numbers, many guests from elsewhere being present, and the costumes will be the attraction. The queen of the carnival, Miss Siunott, and her maids of bonor and matrons of bonor. will add no little to the loveliness of the party. As souvenirs beautiful dance programs will be distributed.
